Apparently realizing that no easy victory was to be theirs, the Turks tightened their play and several in-cidents took place on the field which caused many spectators to object to the tactics of the Turks. The crowd, by now clearly on the side of the Antillean team, cheered loudly at every attempt by the Netherlands players. A penalty against the Turks at this point gave Hato a chance at the goal, but his kick was blocked by his opponent.

The Turks made a quick return of the ball downfield and Hato was forced to race back to defend his position quarding the Antilles' goal. His quick play thwarted the Turks and at the half, the score still stood 1 - 0.

A group of 750 members of the lectures on inert gas presented by Rae Brown, head safety inspector. The lectures were prepared by the Safety Division at the request of Management whose thinking was to give more training to workers in areas where inert gas is used.

The lectures were set up in four basic categories — use of inert gas, hazards of inert gas, precautions taken by the Company to prevent exposure, and protective equipment provided by the Company when exposure is necessary. The lectures were given to foremen and tradesmen in groups twice a day. Each session lasted 45 minutes.

Jubilant Friends Overflow Airport Upon Girl's Return

One had only to look at the joy in her face highlighted by the bright, clear twinkle in her eyes to realize the transformation that has taken place in the outlook on life of Reineta Croes of Piedra Plat. In a and then bulfeted by a hurricane. The few short weeks, a shy, dejected 19-year-old girl became a happy, smiling young lady as a result of a skillful operation successfully and M. Bouman and J. H. de Jongh, performed by a Chicago surgeon and the loving care tendered her by a kind benefactor during her United States stay.

On June 14, Miss Cross flew to United States with a strong hope that medical science would eliminate a pitiful deformity she has had since knew her and rallied in support of her chance for a new start in life. The many prayers did not go un-answered. Eyes were wet with joy on Sunday, July 20, as the happy, confident young lady appeared at the door of the KLM plane and stepped down the ramp — almost as if she were entering a new world.

New World

And a new world it was. Reineta J, de Lange, and J. Walters. was bern with a mouth deformity Address hy J. V. Fr and for 19 years lived with little hope of having the defect corrected. Rev. Hoogewaard, minister of the Dutch Reformed Church of Piedra Plat, called attention of the girl's plight to the Rotary Club of Aruba. The club's members immediately set up a fund raising campaign to send Miss Croes to the United States for medical treatment.

Dr. R. C. Carrell, head of the Lago-Medical Department, and a Rotarian, went a step further. He contacted a farmer fellow medical student, Dr. Hilger P. Jenkins, outstanding Chicago surgeon. In as fine a gesture of humanitarianism as imaginable, Dr. Jenkins offered his skillful services free of charge. "Oh, I have a long journey before me, for I am going to find Ram!" replied the farmer. "I don't suppose you could tell me which way to go?" "Perhaps I can," said the poor man, smiling, "for I am Ram! What do you want of me?

Then the farmer told the whole story, and Ram, taking pity on him, gave him a conch shell, and showed him how to hlow it in a particular way, saying, "Remember! Whatever you wish for, you have only to hlow the conch that way, and your wish will be fulfilled. Only have a eare of that money-lender, for even magic is not proof against such wiles as his!

The farmer went back to his village rejoicing. In fact the money-lender noticed his high spirits at once and said to himself, "Some good fortune must have befallen the stupid fellow, to make him hold his head so jauntily." Therefore, he went over to the simple farmer's house and congratulated him on his good fortune, in such cunning words, preten- name from alphabet stickers. Nevertheless, the money-lender determined to have the conch by hook or hy crook, and as he was villain enough not to stick at trifles, he waited for a favorable opportunity and stole it.
